Real Estate Crossword Puzzle Part 1

Down:

1. A loan to purchase or refinance a home is called a mortgage. Mortgage can also refer to the legal document pledging the property as collateral on the loan.
2. When a house becomes worth more money over time. It's like the house is getting a gold star for being a good investment!
3. A contract outlining the terms under which one party agrees to rent an asset.
4. shows the boundaries, center point, and size of your plot
5. A lien secures payment by giving the lien holder a legal claim to the property. A mortgage is a type of lien because your lender can legally repossess your property if you fail to make payments.

Across:

6. A fancy opinion about how much a house is worth. People who know a lot about houses look at things like how nice the house is, where it is, and how much similar houses have sold for. They don't care if the house sells for more or less, they just want to give a fair opinion.
7. A thing or things belonging to someone; possessions collectively.
8. A financial institution that offers home loans or other credit lines.
